

The IAACM 2017 Congress Committee is keen to announce that a limited number of IACCM Bursary Awards are available to students in the early stages of their career who do not have other available means of financial support but would like to take part and share knowledge. The IACCM 2017 Academic Committee grants bursary awards to students and early career scholars whose submissions have been accepted for presentation at the Academic Track at SIETAR Europa Congress 2017. Further information about submission to the Academic Track can be found online here.

The bursary award will cover up to 90% of the traveling and accommodation expenses of each chosen participant, up to a maximum of € 400 per participant. The congress fee will not be waived and has to be paid by all the participants, whether they have received the bursary or not.

IACCM Bursary Award Guidelines: Application procedure

Bursary applicants need to submit the following documents to scholarships@sietareu.org by 15 October 2016:

- Proof of attending a MA or PhD Degree programme
- Motivation letter (1 page)
- Abstract of Master-/or PhD Thesis (1 page)
- Cost planning/budgeting for your travel to IACCM2017 Academic Track, taking place during SIETAR Europa Congress 2017 in Dublin/Ireland

Please note that additional documentation to support applications or their eligibility may be further requested.

Selection and reimbursement:

Recipients of the IACCM Bursary Award are chosen by the Academic Committee. The committee aims to create a diverse pool of recipients which is chosen based on the scholarly quality of the applicants' submissions and the motivation letters that they submit. We aim to ensure a representation of applicants across diversity parameters including gender, nationality or language as well as opinion, experience and representation. The Academic Committee will notify all the applicants of the decision taken by 15 December 2016 and the bursary funds will be transferred to each recipient's bank account after the congress or paid in cash during the congress in Dublin.

Enquiries: All enquiries on bursary applications should be directed to Andrea Oterova, PhD: scholarships@sietareu.org (Subject: IACCM2017 Bursary Award)

We are very much looking forward to hearing from you!
